Memory Verse

“And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good.”

Genesis 1:31 (KJV)

The Story

Genesis opens with a sentence that settles who owns everything: in the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. The earth was without form, and void, darkness was upon the face of the deep, and the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. Nothing was fixed by force or struggle. God said, Let there be light, and there was light. He saw that it was good, divided it from the darkness, and named them Day and Night. Genesis 1:1-5

The next two days shaped the world into places where life could live. God made a firmament to divide the waters from the waters, and called it Heaven. Then he gathered the waters under heaven into one place so the dry land appeared, and he called the dry land Earth and the gathered waters Seas. He commanded the earth to bring forth grass, herbs yielding seed, and fruit trees, and each one produced after his kind, carrying its own seed inside it. Genesis 1:6-13

On the fourth day God set lights in the firmament to divide day from night and to serve as signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years. He made two great lights, the greater to rule the day and the lesser to rule the night, and he made the stars also. On the fifth day the waters brought forth abundantly, including great whales, and winged fowl filled the air. God blessed them and told them to be fruitful and multiply. Genesis 1:14-23

On the sixth day God made the land animals after their kind, and then said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. So God created man in his own image, male and female, and gave them dominion over the fish, the fowl, and every living thing that moves on the earth. He gave them the seed-bearing plants and fruit for food. God saw every thing that he had made, and it was very good. On the seventh day he ended his work and rested, and he blessed the seventh day and sanctified it. Genesis 1:24-2:3
